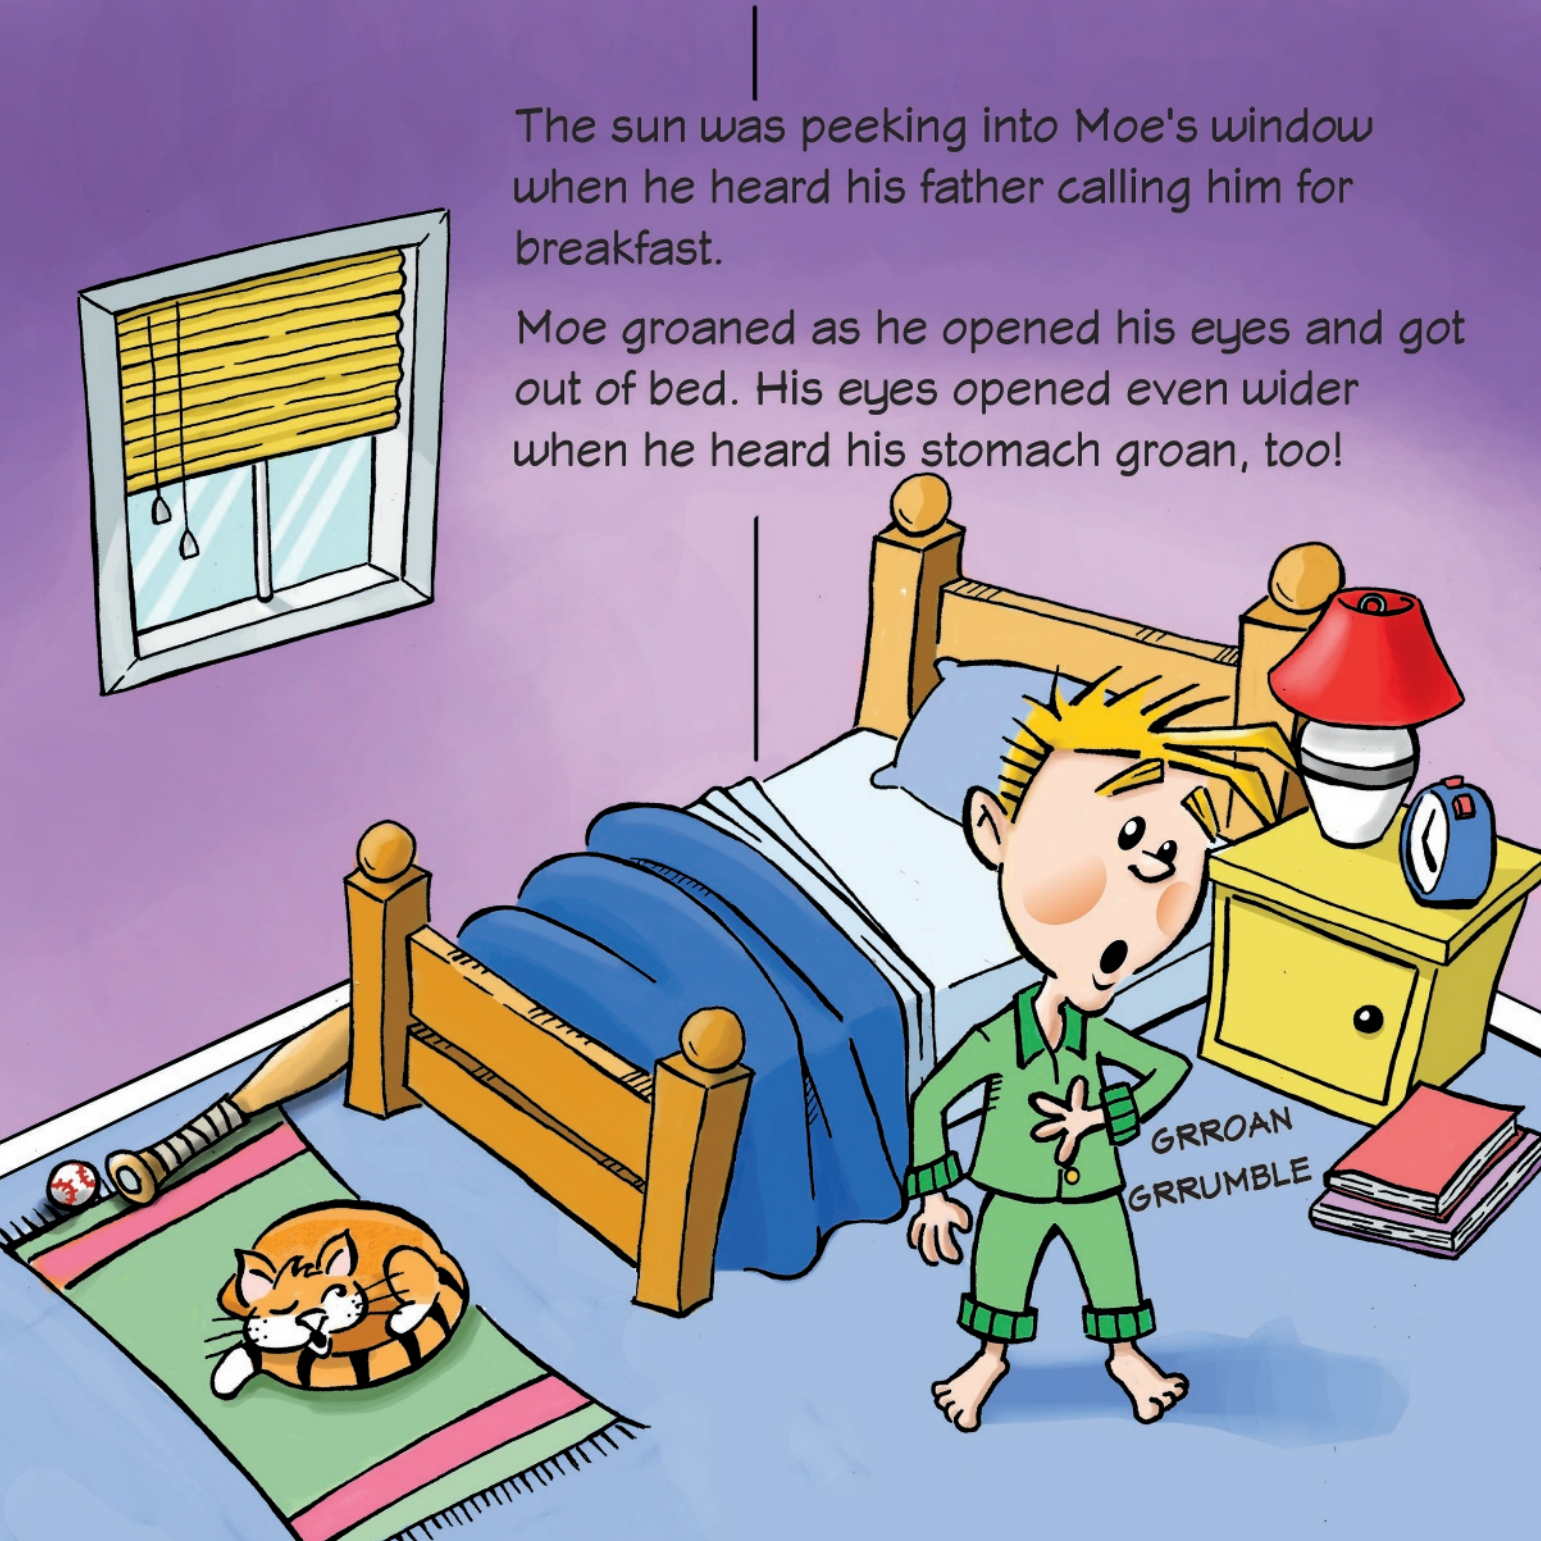
The sun was peeking into Moe's window when he heard his father calling him for breakfast.

Moe groaned as he opened his eyes and got out of bed. His eyes opened even wider when he heard his stomach groan, too!



He ran to the kitchen to tell his father.

"Dad, my stomach is making a funny noise!"

Moe heard his stomach grumble again. "Why is it making this rumbling sound?"

"Well, it's been a long time since you ate any food," laughed Moe's father. "I think your stomach is telling you that you need to eat!"

"You have stomach hunger this morning, Moe."
